The Rose-Lover's Opportunity

YOU have dreamed about a Rose-bed on each side of the front walk, and another in full view from the sun-parlor, with Climbing Roses trained over the porches, so that in the month of June your home would be a wonderfully beautiful place. It is to assist you and many others who have been dreaming and planning that we present this Rose-Lover's Opportunity. Little work and a small cash outlay are necessary to make this dreamland real.

Every year we grow several hundred thousand Rose plants in hundreds of varieties. To move this tremendous amount of plants in the spring, along with our other plant business, is a big task, so we have reduced the prices of Rose plants for fall delivery. It is to your advantage to buy now, for it saves us the expense of caring for them over winter and that saving is passed on to you in lowered prices.

Fall planting of Roses is really better than spring planting over most of the United States, provided the plants are protected during winter. When spring comes, the fall-set plants are ready to make the earliest spring growth, which is always the best. You are thus assured of a good crop of bloom the first year. We urge you to buy now; it is much to your advantage, and you will have no spring regrets.

NEW AND SCARCE ROSES AT REDUCED PRICES

All the newer and rarer Roses suitable to this country are here catalogued at specially reduced prices. These reductions will enable you to buy more plants for the same money. In addition to lower prices, everything catalogued is ready for immediate shipping; there will be no disappointment, which often is the case with spring orders, for while we try to have enough of every kind, we cannot always gage the demand.

SUCKERLESS ROSES

Our Roses are budded on Rosa multiflora. Every plant grown by us is two years old, low budded, and field-grown. The low budding eliminates the danger of thorny, rampant suckers coming from the root to weaken the plant. Rosa multiflora stock makes a far more fibrous root-growth than other stocks, which insures a strong, vigorous plant and an abundance of bloom.

ASSISTANCE FOR BEGINNERS

If you have never grown Roses and are not sure what varieties would suit the conditions in your garden, do not let that interfere with your taking advantage of this fall offer. On page 10 we list thirty-two Tea, Hybrid Tea, and Pernetiana Roses, each one of which has become a standard garden Rose in America. We have made special offers of these favorites. After you decide which offer to accept, and will tell us about the environment they will have, we will select varieties that will give you the best results.

It is our ambition to provide suitable Roses for all America. We want to make America the real world-home of the garden Rose, so that the fine motto of the American Rose Society "A Rose for every home, a bush for every garden," may be realized.

In addition to our Rose plantation we have test-gardens in which we gather, from all over the world, all the new varieties of Roses for testing. If they succeed in our test-gardens and Rose-fields it is safe to assume that they will thrive almost anywhere in this country. Then, but not until then, do we start propagating for you and the thousands of other Rose-lovers.

AN UNUSUAL ROSE CATALOGUE

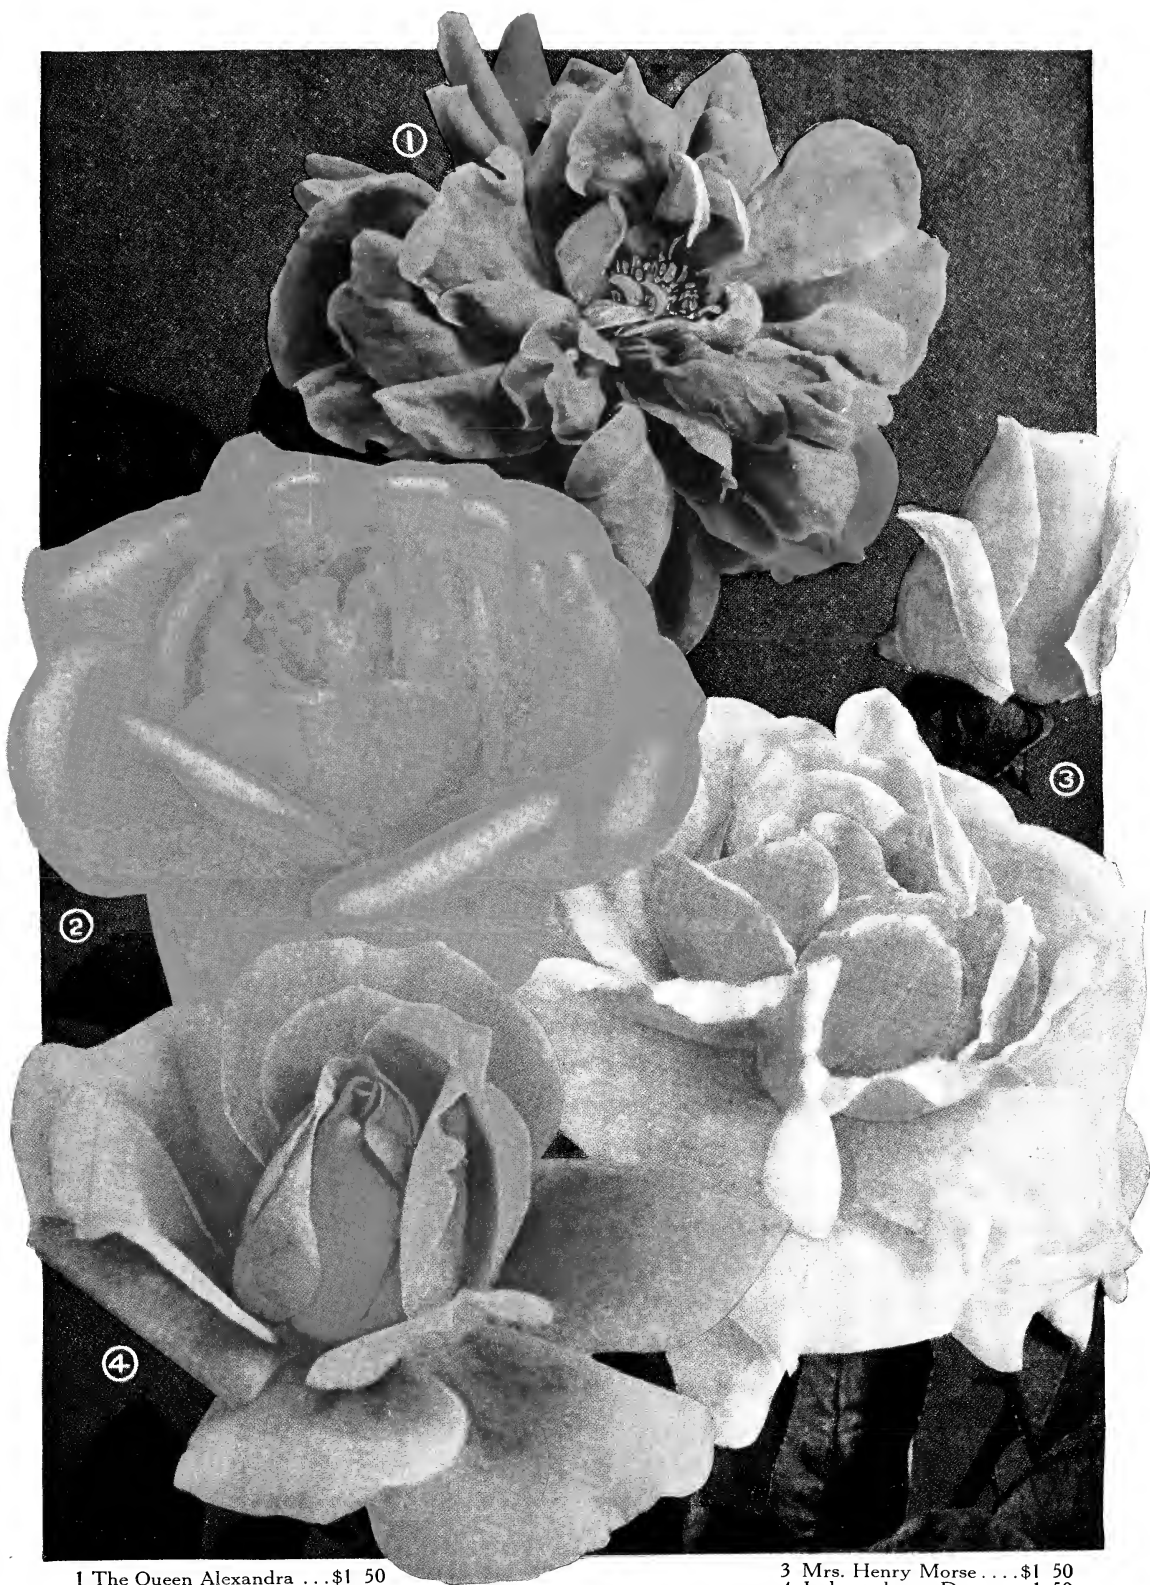

In our 1924 Spring Rose Catalogue—one of the best Rose catalogues ever published—we list over 700 varieties. Fuller descriptions of the Roses will be found in this Catalogue, and eighty varieties are illustrated in color, besides many half-tone reproductions. There is a chapter on "What Roses to Plant," one on "Insuring Rose Prosperity," and a list of all the catalogued varieties grouped by color, which you will find especially helpful in selecting Roses for special purposes. If you did not receive a copy of this Catalogue (issued in spring, 1924) we will be glad to present you with one.

AN INVITATION

We shall be pleased to have every lover of Roses visit our Rose-fields during the growing season. The past summer many hundreds of our customers came to see the Roses in bloom. At times hundreds of thousands of beautiful and perfect flowers could be seen on many varieties of Roses. You are invited to participate in this pleasure.
